State takes action against 7 lawyers

Five lawyers were recently suspended from the practice of law in Virginia, and two lawyers were disbarred, in actions taken by the Virginia State Bar.

The Virginia State Bar is the administrative agency of the Supreme Court of Virginia responsible for regulating the practice of law in the state and for disciplining lawyers who violate the state Supreme Court's Code of Professional Responsibility for lawyers.

The following lawyers were suspended from the practice of law:

- Wallace R. Heatwole, 60, of Waynesboro, received a 60-day suspension from the Virginia State Bar Disciplinary Board, effective Sept. 1, for engaging in deceit in handling a case;

- James L. Whitehurst, 44, of Richmond, will begin a six-month suspension Sept. 17 now that the Supreme Court of Virginia has denied his appeal of a 1983 verdict by a panel of three circuit court judges. The three-judge panel ordered his suspension for a trust account violation;

- John V. Notarianni, 38, of Manassas, received a three-year suspension from the Disciplinary Board, effective July 10, after it determined that he neglected his clients' affairs and then consciously lied to the clients about the status of their affairs in four separate cases;

- Frank Moses McCann, 57, of Lynchburg, received an indefinite suspension from the Disciplinary Board on July 6. McCann is currently incarcerated at the Powhatan Correctional Center on a felony conviction; and

- Robert J. Lyons, 54, of Concord, received a 90-day suspension from the Disciplinary Board, effective June 8, for failing to attend promptly to matters undertaken for a client, resulting in a default judgement against his client.

The following two lawyers were disbarred from the practice of law in the state:

Margaret A. McPherson, 51, of Newport News, was disbarred by the Disciplinary Board, effective July 10, for neglecting a legal matter and for handling a legal matter without adequate preparation. McPherson was serving a one-year suspension for two other instances of neglect when the Disciplinary Board issued its order revoking her law license; and Philip K. O'Brien, 32, of Arlington, was disbarred by the Disciplinary Board, effective August 6, after the Board determined that he engaged in misrepresentation and neglected a legal matter entrusted to him.

The State Bar has, in each of the state's ten congressional districts, committees which investigate complaints against lawyers. When a district committee certifies charges against a lawyer, that lawyer has the option of having his case heard before either the Disciplinary Board or a panel of three circuit court judges.

Voting is a duty

Editor:

Voting is not only a privilege but a duty of every single eligible citizen of these United States of America.

This duty is one which many people consider unimportant and thus fail to exercise. In Appomattox County, less than 6,000 of our 8,000 eligible citizens are registered to vote, and less than 60 percent of those registered voted in our last General Election.

Though you may not think so, every person's vote is important; our history is replete with many instances where just a few votes decided an election and the course of our Nation. Here are a few examples:

1948--Harry Truman carried Ohio and California by one vote per precinct, thus carrying these two states and giving him the presidency over Dewey.

1954--Averell Harriman was elected Governor of New York by just one vote per precinct.

1960--John F. Kennedy had a plurality of 113,000 votes over Richard Nixon, a nationwide average of less than one vote per precinct.

1962--George McGovern was elected U. S. Senator from South Dakota by far less than one vote per precinct.

So, your one vote may change the course of this Nation.

In order to vote in the coming election, a citizen must register on or before October 6, 1984. Every U.S. citizen who resides in Virginia and is at least 17 years old and will be 18 on or before November 6, 1984, is eligible to register to vote.

Sincerely,
Warren Zick

MD benefit planned here

"This year we would like to top last year's total," said Volturo.

"Put More Behind It" is the slogan for this year's drive to fight against the approximately 40 diseases of the muscles.

Just what is Muscular Dystrophy?

MD is a term designating a group of diseases marked by progressive weakness and wasting of the skeletal muscles (those which control body movement).

The muscular dystrophies and related neuromuscular diseases (including amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, ploymyositis, dermatomyositis, Friedreich's ataxia and myasthenia gravis) are progressive. Symptoms invariably get worse when muscle deteriorates.

There are as yet no cures nor any way to arrest the progress of most of these catastrophic diseases, which afflict an estimated one million Americans. Neuromuscular disease can strike anyone at any age. Some forms develop in infancy or childhood, others between 20's or in middle or later years.

MDA's lifeblood is derived from the help and support it receives from concerned, caring, and dedicated individuals. The association's objectives and commitment to provide comprehensive patient-care programs today hope for tomorrow's research breakthroughs is still as strong as it was when MDA was first founded thirty years ago. But, to make these goals a reality, MDA needs the continued support of people everywhere to help make the lives of thousands of people with muscle diseases to be much happier and certainly more hopeful.

"Our plea is to ask people to open their hearts and pocketbooks and give generously," said Chairman Volturo.

On Sunday evening and all day Monday the number to call to make a pledge is 352-8288.

"Rest of all, drop by the Town Office, place your donation in the fish bowl, enjoy the various games and activities we have planned and attend the auction. We need you," Volturo concluded.

The MDA auction in Appomattox is sponsored by the Appomattox Town employees and the Appomattox County Jaycees.

SCHOOL'S OPENING DAY. In Appomattox County went smoothly, according to Lloyd Walton, superintendent of schools in the county. At Appomattox Primary School, the younger children looked a bit bewildered as they prepare to board the bus home following their first day at public school. Related story on page 1.
